DRUNKEN SAILORS FALL INTO HARBOR

Midshipman Lando Saves One Of Colorado's Crew

Would it not be a good idea to have a life-saving station here in Honolulu? That was the question asked along the waterfront this morning. The question was prompted from the fact that two drunken sailors fell into the water this forenoon while staggering and swearing at the embankments right in front of them. They evidently took the embankments as their enemy and when they raised their hands and struck the objects before them they lost their balance and plunged right into the water. One of them was a sailor on board the steamer Indiana. His name is Harry Peters, and he weighs about 320 pounds, that is if the liquor in him was included. Where he got the booze no one knows except Peters himself. He was trying to go on board the steamer Maui, which is docked at the foot of Nuuanu street. Ewa of the Claudine wharf. Instead of walking on a gang plank which was nearby Peters tried to climb up on the nose of the steamer and in doing so he fell into the water. "The steersman of the Indiana, who saw his downfall, rushed along and threw a life line to him. Peters was too drunk to realize that he was in trouble and made no attempt to grasp the line. The steward did not waste his time, but lassoed the drunken man and with the assistance of others Peters was hauled ashore. He said that since he took the plunge he was robbed up. Supervisor Fern, who happened along, took Peters and comforted him.

Another similar occurrence took place at the naval wharf. A drunken sailor from the cruiser Colorado was sleeping on the new embankment makal of the old market when he rolled over and fell into the water. Midshipman Lando came along, and taking his coat off, lassoed the struggling sailor with a rope which he borrowed from one of the road lums who was watching the cruisers. The sailor was pulled up and taken on board the Colorado. During his struggle in the water there were four other sailors in the water coming to the assistance of their comrade.

INDIANA WILL WAIT FOR KOREA

Should the steamship Korea come into port early this afternoon, the probabilities are that the Indiana will sail for Vancouver late tonight or tomorrow forenoon. This was brought about on account of the fact that very few emigrants are to go to Vancouver. One of the promoters of the emigration business said that the Korea will surely bring in a lot of immigrants from Japan. "Almost all of them," said he, "are Vancouver-bound Japanese. It would be to their convenience and advantage to go there by the first boat. The Indiana has ample room for them all, and both the Indiana and the Japanese would be the gainers in the whole thing. There are about 150 Japanese emigrants booked to depart on the Indiana, and how many more would go, no one can say."

One of the officers of the Indiana said this morning that the steamer will probably not make another trip down here.

UNITED STATES APPEALS

The Federal Government has taken on appeal to the United States Court of Appeals at San Francisco in the matter of the naturalization of George Friedrich Rodiek. Rodiek won before Judge Dole against the opposition of United States District Attorney Breckons, and the appeal is for the purpose of having the naturalization law definitely defined.

Governor Frear, Secretary Mott-Smith and Land Commissioner Pratt held another conference this morning over the Kapaa matter. The negotiations have now reached the legal point and the extent to which the Territory may legally go in the matter of exchanges, etc., must be investigated before anything definite can be done. As soon as the legal points are settled there will be another conference at which something definite may be decided upon.

"CRIMINOLOGIST" JOB WAS NOT ABOLISHED

Salary Appropriated By Legislature For Office

The morning paper, with its usual accuracy, states this morning editorially that there are said to be a half hundred applicants for the office of "criminologist" in the Attorney General's department and that a curious thing about this scramble for a job is the fact that there is no such office as that mentioned in existence. "The Legislature," says the Advertiser, "abolished the position by cutting out the salary, although its last incumbent was kept on, under payment from the department's general expense fund until the recent change in the headship of the department."

And working from this erroneous hypothesis, the paper hands out a gentle roast: "At all events, executive officers of the Territory have no right to nullify the will of the Legislature in dealing with tax-eaters."

All of which might be very well if the statements on which it is founded were correct. But as a matter of fact the Legislature did not abolish the office of "criminologist." The salary appropriation bill passed by the Legislature contains an item, "salary of Court Officer, $150 (per month)—$3600."

There was an attempt made in the lower house of the Legislature to abolish the office, and the Territorial salary appropriation bill as first passed by the House contained no provision for the salary of the "criminologist." But the item was inserted in conference committee and remained there when the bill was passed.

FEDERAL OFFICES BEING EXAMINED

Expert Masterson Now Going Over The Accounts

For the first time since the organization of the Territory the accounts of the Federal offices connected with the Department of Justice have received an expert examination. This work is being done by M. C. Masterson, one of the official examiners of the department. Mr. Masterson has been here a number of weeks engaged on the work in question and it is possible that he will be here for several weeks to come.

United States Marshal Hendry's office was the first to receive attention from the expert. The accounts of the Marshal's office are reported to be in first class shape in every particular.

The next work of the expert will be on the office of the U. S. District Attorney, and following that comes a look into the office of the clerk of the U. S. Court.

Examinations of this nature are made at frequent intervals on the Mainland, but for some reason Hawaii has been neglected for nearly seven years.

Examiner Masterson has been engaged in this line of work for a number of years and has, in an official capacity, visited a large number of Federal offices in the States. Mr. Masterson expects to take a trip to Hilo and other points of interest before leaving for the coast.

H. A. Crow of Connellsville, Pa., former captain of the Tenth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, was elected commander in chief of the Society Army of the Philippines at Kansas City, Mo. The meeting next year will be at Galesburg, Ill.

But you should begin now to make a mental note of the fact that this is the place to get meats that are tended at a price that will be satisfactory to you. We pride ourselves on securing a quality that cannot be excelled.

We will take your order over the telephone and deliver to you as good meats, fish or vegetables as you could get if you ordered personally.
